Freshmen

Perfect Strangers

As always, the Freshmen come into the high school feeling like perfect strangers. We knew a lot of people, but the atmosphere, new classes, and new teachers were so strange to us!

We were all so much like best friends. When we started exploring the ideas of individuality, we had so many answers to our simple questions. We were just like strangers to the subject of fitting in, and we looked forward to making new friends and making a name for ourselves in our perfectly new surroundings.

This year for our Booster Day float we created "Winnie the Pooh." Everyone stuck together and gave their all. It just took Booster Day to group ourselves into a class, the Class of '92.

We made it through our Freshman year and now it's time to make an early start on our prom. Our first fundraiser was candy apples that a number of parents chipped in to make. We sold them at the Sunday Booster Day game, postponed from a rainy Saturday. Our advisors, Mrs. Dobosz and Mrs. Jenks, did a great deal for our class.

Floatmaking took place at the Dobosz's, where we created a masterpiece. The theme was Walt Disney, and our float, Donald Duck, took a whopping first place, a major step from last year. Sarah Jenks and Shane Burek represented our class as Duchess and Duke.

The opportunity of ordering class rings came about this year as well.

It was a different world, being a sophomore, but it was a challenge we met head on!

Juniors

This year for our Booster Day float we made Figment, the dragon, to capture second place. This was the beginning of our growing pains.

We all got some extra pains from studying for and taking the PSAT's and the SAT's this year. Taking these tests made us realize we had to start growing up and thinking of the future.

Many of us are also finding out how hard it is to raise money for various things that we need (such as cars, licenses, and the prom!)

Regardless, we all know that no matter how many growing pains we have to face this year, we'll all be there for each other to make it a great year.

The Wonder Years:

Freshmen Bob Bogusz, Chip Dodge, Shawn Morin and Wes Cady show their stuff at floatmaking, while Todd Dodge reaps the benefits.

As FRESHMEN, we were all trying very hard to fit in and get used to being on the bottom of the class ladder once again. It was tough having everyone else older and looking down on us, but somehow we made it through.

Booster Day of this year saw an amazing second place finish of our float, Ernie in the Tub. After the Garfield disaster in eighth grade, we were so very proud of Ernie!

The entire weekend was a lot of fun with Emily Jenks and Chip Dodge representing us in our first Booster Day as Lady in Waiting and her escort.

To boost our funds, we spent the year selling mostly candy. Numerous lollipops and candy sticks were sold as well as the many that suspiciously disappeared from Mrs. Neville's prep room. Regardless, we used the money to take a trip to Hampton Beach. As you may recall, many got sunburns and spent the bus ride home sipping ginger ale. Still, it was a great first trip.

In SOPHOMORE year Booster Day was a big event for us, as usual. Using the theme "Nursery Rhymes," we built a float of Humpty Dumpty. We spent all week preparing for the rally, where we all wore our Turners sweatshirts and did the "Sophomore Shuffle." By showing a terrific display of spirit, we won the spirit award.

The next day was just as exciting. After marching the parade route proudly, we watched the game against Mahar (we won, 20-13). As we waited to hear the winning float, Neysa Pelletier and Chip Dodge took their halftime walk as Duke and Duchess. The big announcement came soon enough, naming Humpty Dumpty #1!

At Christmas time our hall was quite a sight! We had messages written on the lockers, garland in the doorways, and a real tree outside Mrs. Neville's room.

One big event this year was ordering our class rings. We were all so excited and anxiously awaited their delivery.

During the year, one of our classmates, Marcy Annear, was in the hospital. Since it was so close to Valentine's Day, we all made her a big card, and each member of the class put a message on it.

A few lucrative fundraisers were candy sales and the renowned Turners sweatshirts. These were sold in blue, gray, and eventually white.

JUNIOR year didn't look as if it would be as if it would be as great as sophomore year (it would be hard to beat that), but things changed when Booster week came around.

During spirit week we decorated our own hall. A lot of time went into putting up streamers, posters, and even balloons! The school spirit kept building and building until Friday night when we participated in the most exciting rally we'd ever been a part of. We did a dance to "Wipeout" in our beach clothes, and we were represented by Dean Clark and Jodi Bastarache, Prince and Princess.

Our float, Capt. Crunch, took second to the sophomores, but we were still proud of him and the "Soggies." Although we lost the game, it was still a great day.

Another big event of the year was the prom. The committee worked tirelessly to get the perfect decorations and keepsakes. Held at the Depot in Northampton, the theme was "Southern Romance" and the song was "For Just a Moment."

We tried to bring tradition back by having a receiving line and selecting a King and Queen, some things that hadn't been done at TFHS for a long time. Scott Martineau and Lisa Moore were crowned our royalty at the end of the night.

Finally, we were SENIORS - something we had looked forward to for a long time. With this title came many benefits as well as responsibility.

In October, we got our senior privileges - we were allowed to leave school early if we had a study hall at the end of the day, and we could graduate early instead of staying until the end of June with the other classes. In return we had to keep our school clean and not abuse our privileges.

Our class decided early in the year not to have a big class trip - mostly because it was too expensive. Instead, we planned to have a smaller one at the end of the year.

For Booster Day the theme was "Disneyland," and our float, Cinderella, came out great!

Our biggest responsibility was to prepare for after graduation. Most of us weren't really sure what we wanted to do (college, work, the service), and our counselor, Karen Ziomek, was a big help in making our decisions.

Senior year was an important one for us. We all did quite a bit of growing up, especially with Mrs. Neville helping us along. We only hope that everyone's senior year can be as super as ours was!

The Class of '89 is a special class; we were enthusiastic during our years at Turners, and we did many things to be proud of.

It takes a great amount of work and dedication to make a success story, and our time at Turners could certainly be called that. Thanks to everyone who helped and supported our class over the years. We couldn't have done it without you!

Best of luck, Class of '89!

Jodi L. Bastarache
Historian

What a lively marching group!

In The Spotlight:

Mrs. Neville

This is a special thanks to someone very dear,
From a class who would not have been the same if you were not here.
You've been there for us through thick and thin,
You never gave up and never gave in.
You've given us advice and a scolding or two,
We've had some rough times and some major fights, too.
Together we had good times and conquered the problems we faced,
And all the times we shared with you can never be replaced.
The memories you gave us will remain after we go
Because you're very special to us and this you must always know.
We want to thank our advisor, our teacher, our friend,
We want to thank Mrs. Neville for staying 'til the end.
We want to thank you for everything before we have to go,
And please always remember we'll forever miss you so.

. . . As our Teacher

TAVI STERLING leaves Odie-J with the eye for fashion; Becky with the giant cheese slicer; Al with the class of 90 (HA HA); Mauria walking down the hall thinking, "She's talking to me;" Jenn, Tina, and Ericka in the bathroom smoking between classes (and during); and Becky, Ria, Ericka, and Odie-J wondering if the green light will ever turn red.

RENEE SWIFT leaves Becky S. looking through frosty windows; Zoo, B.S. and S.B. up in the hills trying to get home, Conn. tonight? and the back of a parked car; Jeanette wondering; M.Z. spying; Char the back seat of her car; Mom and Dad wondering; and Angie wishing.

JILL THAYER leaves Sara in Wendell looking for the stop sign; Ange trying to open her car doors; Eric 110; George F. a new car; good times at OZZ; "Cool Paul" someone to do his work; Deb another year with Mr. M; and Mom and Dad, thanks for everything — I love you!

SALLY THOMPSON leaves Susan and Tammy with five more years at TFHS and Terri always with Darren.

BRENNA TIBBETTS leaves Pam getting lucky at X-tra Mart, Nikki looking for "Richard," Emily smoking butts at her house, Neysa under the same roof as the Prom Queen '88, Jenn holding her own head up, and Deanna "Doink" her many names and three more years.

JON TIBBETTS leaves Kathi with two lonely years without him, and Mark and Buzzard in fifth for their remaining year.

JEAN TRACESKI leaves Sue to carry on #426, Pinni another year, O'Neillski playing bumper cars in the band room, Barker all the thrash he can handle, Kris cutting Sunni's hair, Kerri two more years and Jeff, her love.

TOM URBAN leaves this place hoping never to return.

BARRY WALKER leaves with his diploma.

JODY WILLIAMS leaves Char taking "the test," Jackie some new clothes and some H.S., Mary-Jo wondering where that quarter went, Sarah with her "little devil," Karla with one less guy, and Jeanette an N.J.

JASON WONDOLOSKI leaves Mr. Hazlett a bacon-beef burger and Mr. O. on his perch.

DIANE WONSEY leaves Andrea the truth, Amy and Bruce and a plane, Kris only two-way streets and a night in the cellar, Jen a kindergarten friend, Lisa with her indestructible calculator and a present on time, Angela the best of luck, and all her friends lots of love.

MARY-JO ZAYAC leaves Jenny with two more years to go, "Mr." Kenney in the lab with all the brats, Mrs. Smith with a huge bag of candy, Mr. O. with a big smile, and she leaves after six long years of work, missing everyone, even her "enemies."

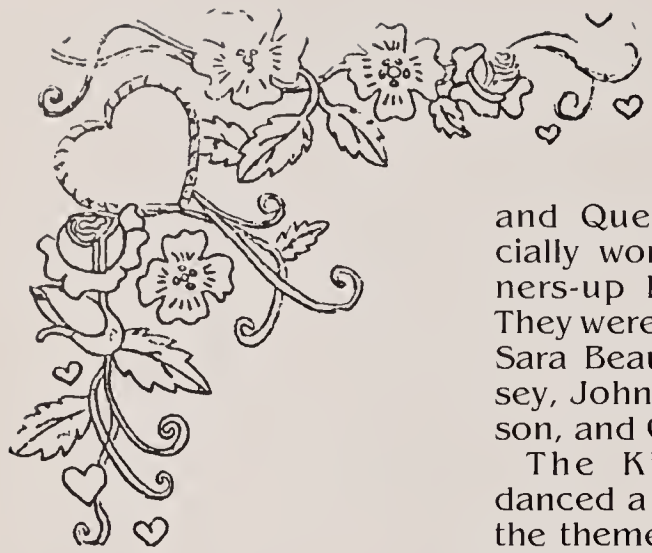
A Year In the Life

STUDENT LIFE



It started out as a hectic sunny day of washing the cars, picking up the tux, doing the hair, and getting the flowers. It turned out to be the glorious night of May 7, 1988, and "For Just A Moment" it was a "Southern Romance," a prom dedicated to the seniors by a poem written by Sara Beaubien.

The event occurred at The Depot in Northhampton, which was beautifully colored in peach and green. The room was decorated with flowers, parasols, and other assorted decorations to help represent the "Southern Romance" theme.

As the cars and limos slowly pulled up, couples-stepped out looking spectacular. Lisa Moore andScott Martineau, who represented the school as King and Queen, looked especially wonderful. Their runners-up looked great too. They were Marie Letourneau, Sara Beaubien, Diane Wonsey, John Putala, Eric Peterson, and Graham Fellows.

The King and Queen danced a spotlight dance to the theme song "For Just A Moment," which was played by the band, The Headliners. Throughout the night the band played songs that kept the dance floor crowded with people.

The Prom Committee, after all the arguments and problems, turned out one of the most glamorous proms this school has ever seen. Even the receiving line, which was made up of faculty, administration, and special guests, felt that the prom was enjoyable.

As the night came to an end and the band finished, it seemed as though only a moment had passed. People hugged good-bye, leaving behind an empty room and taking with them special memories of their "moment" in a "Southern Romance" and the memories of a night shared with very special friends.

T.F.H.S. SPECIAL NEWS

WE INTERRUPT THIS PROGRAM TO BRING YOU THIS SPECIAL NEWS BULLETIN ... Three Turners Falls High School teachers were subjected to a drinking and driving experiment on a November afternoon. They drank at three-drink intervals and drove a double-braked car, generously donated by Harvey-Faille's Driving School.

A course was set up with cones and the teachers were tricked by a quick-stop test with a dummy being pulled into the road. Officer Zukowski from the Montague Police Department was there to test the BAC (Blood Alcohol Content) of each driver. This program was sponsored by the TFHS Peer Educators.

The students' reactions were varied: "It was pretty good, except I think most people went to see the teachers drunk, not to see the effects," said Junior, Craig Brown. Junior, Joanne Tranghese said, "I thought it was good; it was interesting." Junior, Jeremy Stone said, "I got something out of it. We saw the teachers drink, then drive, and there was a difference from sober." Teacher John O'Riley tells us what he thought: "My BAC was .10 .. just the legal limit; and let me tell you, I have never been this drunk before." The teachers were provided a safe ride home. The purpose of this activity was to make students aware of the effects alcohol has on your driving and reactions. NOW BACK TO OUR REGULARLY SCHEDULED PROGRAM.

A very happy Mr. O'Riley cheers after his last drive.

Members of each class used the greenhouse out behind the school when they were sophomores and taking BSCS Biology. They learned how to grow plants from seed and from cuttings . . . remember: Never plant a seed more than twice its own diameter!!! Every winter and early spring, students spent a lot of time out there, transplanting all the plants which ended up in the front garden and at their houses as Mother's Day presents. And how can anyone forget the day we arrived at school to see the greenhouse demolished? Somebody broke most of the windows one night, and a lot of us and Mrs. Neville spent the day putting the place back together. All was not lost, as we had one of the best gardens the school has seen yet! Many members really devoted themselves to the beautification of the school yard, spending many hours and weekends at the greenhouse for the benefit of the whole community.

The greenhouse was a place to go to get away from the usual pressures of school and immerse yourself in the warm, humid air and the music blaring from the radio . . . it was a break in the day, and it was the opportunity to go outdoors for a walk. It also taught you how to grow and care for the plants, something many of us will be doing for the rest of our lives.

Most of all, greenhouse taught us responsibility and something about determination. Plants die when they are neglected. It's just that simple. You could see at a glance whether they were spindly and yellow. You could recognize that the effort you put into the project reflected back upon you. It was a time when we could not escape from ourselves: the plants spoke to us from their little flats about the matter of commitment.

Masterpiece Theater

Theater Arts is a new class in the curriculum this year. Under the direction of Mr. William Roberts, these students meet period 3 every day. In this class, students study (in-depth) many areas of drama such as history, improvisation, stage terminology, pantomime, and voice and diction.

The group performed two one-act plays around Christmas this year: The Recognition Scene from Anastasia, portrayed by Tricia Pleasant, and Amy Paulin, and The Boor, portrayed by Terri Reipold, Alan Bristol, and Tim Zywna. These productions gave the entire class experience in lighting, make-up, costumes, and the basic fundamentals of play production.

Tricia Pleasant pours Amy Paulin a drink.

Heather Lubold, are you skipping class?

Sally Thompson is reading her lines.

Heidi Weeks has her lines memorized.

Amy Paulin and Tim Zywna are always smiling.

Double Trouble

The lines used most often that people fall for:
1. They made me do it. I didn't want to.
2. I'm only a child, and I didn't know better.
3. I think I'm about to pass out; may I go to the nurse?
4. The computer messed up the grade.
5. We got lost on our way home. Sorry we're late.
6. I know it's against your principles. It won't happen again.

The funniest excuses ever heard:
1. The rain washed the ink off.
2. We weren't talking. We were taking a poll on who you voted for for President.
3. Someone held a gun to my head and made me.
4. I spilled acid on it in Chem. lab.
5. The parakeet broke the window. He tried to fly through it.
6. My cat died, and I had to hold the family funeral.

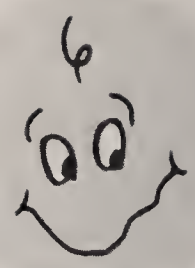
If you got sent to ISS, what would you tell your parents:
1. I am the victim of circumstances beyond my control.
2. Don't you know that ISS is for smart people.
3. It was a mix-up, but since I'm a person who doesn't like to cause trouble, I served the sentence.
4. It is the International Smart Students Club.

50% of our students would not even tell their parents that they got sent to ISS.

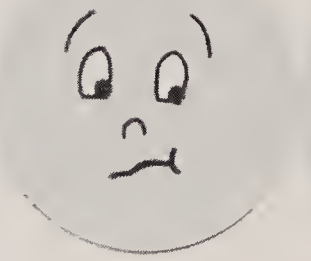
60% of our scheming students have never been caught in their excuse (telling lies) and they are very proud of it!!!

"Oh well, another day in I.S.S."

I guess I'm here again Mr. D."



I'll never get caught."



I hope nobody saw me."

What is my mom gonna say about this."

I got that teacher good."

DETENTION

DETENTION IS A PUNISHMENT
FOR SOMETHING YOU SAY OR DO,
NO MATTER WHAT EXCUSE YOU HAVE
THEY OFTEN DO NOT APPROVE.
SO YOU SIT IN A ROOM FOR AN HOUR
THOUGH YOU HAVE SO MANY BETTER THINGS TO DO.
BUT IT'S TOTALLY OUT OF YOUR POWER
CUZ IT'S THE PRINCIPAL THAT MAKES THE RULES

YOU'D THINK WE'D LEARN OUR LESSONS
FOR THIS ISN'T THE FIRST OFFENSE,
BUT WE JUST KEEP ON PUSHING OUR LUCK
'TIL THEY KICK US IN ISS!
THIS IS EVEN WORSE PUNISHMENT
IT LASTS ALL DAY LONG,
THE TIME PASSES SO VERY SLOWLY
AND YOUR MAKE-UP WORKS ALL DONE!

SO HERE'S A NOTE OF ADVICE
TO ALL YOU FIRST OFFENDERS,
DON'T GET IN ANY FIGHTS, OR BE LATE,
CUZ BELIEVE ME THEY'LL REMEMBER!

THE USA TODAY

What a year to remember! As with any year, it had its good memories and its bad. How could we forget how tens of thousands of people lost their lives in an earthquake that devastated Russia? Or how right before Christmas a Pan-Am jet exploded over Scotland killing about 300 Christmas travelers?

Tragedy struck locally, too. A young GCC student, Sharon Gregory, was murdered by a young peer, Mark Branch. The county-wide manhunt and national exposure put Franklin County in the limelight for months. All the excitement and fear were finally put to rest when Mark Branch was found; he had committed suicide.

Regardless, the good points showed through as well. It was an Olympic year, and the US came out shining. Athletes like Greg Louganis, Matt Biondi, and Janet Evans (who set a world record in swimming) all returned home from Seoul, Korea with gold medals. It was also a presidential election year. The Republicans gave us George Bush and his running mate, the unknown Dan Quayle, and the Democrats countered with our own governor, Mike Dukakis, and his mate, Lloyd Bentsen. Dukakis got off to a strong start, but Bush prevailed and won the election. Whether that's good news or not is up to you!

Peer Ed.

The Peer Educators are a group of very dedicated students who meet weekly on Tuesdays. The group started out the year with elections and three intense training sessions. The students were educated in the areas of drugs, alcohol, and emotional problems, under the direction of Kristen Mehr from the Beacon Clinic. Although no great goals were accomplished in the past few years, this group is transforming from a "do-nothing" to a "do-everything" group. Their major projects this year ranged from the very successful drinking and driving demonstration in November and renovation of an "all-new" Peer Ed room, to the distribution of red ribbons to be placed on cars to deter people from drinking and driving. As a whole, the group is looking forward to becoming more involved in all sorts of community and school activities.

National Honor Society

Not just anyone can be a member of NHS. To be inducted, one must achieve a 3.2 grade point average, and also display exceptional character, leadership, and involvement in school and community activities. Since NHS is a group dedicated to service, members are expected to help in any planned activities, which this year included selling programs at football games. This money is used to help those less fortunate. This year's officers worked hard for the society. By attending numerous meetings, privileges for seniors were extended, so that they could leave when they had a study. Juniors were also able to leave after their last class of the day, something not allowed before. A special thanks goes to our advisor, Stan Dobosz. His hard work and dedication in raising money and putting on the induction ceremonies hasn't gone unnoticed. We're all very grateful for his guidance, which has made NHS the admirable group it is today.

Student Council

The Student Council has become an important part of every student's life at T.F.H.S. The year started out with a revised constitution and a new office-Parliamentarian. That set the pace for the many projects and activities that made the year a success, including a rainy Booster Day. This year, the Annual Fall Conference of the Western Mass. Association of Student Councils was held at T.F.H.S. It was a huge success with over 15 schools and 175 students from all over Western Mass. attending. Right before Christmas the students decided to show the teachers how much they are appreciated. Each member of the Student Council was a "Secret Santa" for a week. The week was filled with fun, and again the project was a success. Students are becoming aware of the need for school beautification. In the spring of 1988 the Student Council landscaped the front yard. Bushes and flowers were arranged to give the building a more personal touch. The Student Council is always looking for new ideas and hopes to add more to the new look of the school. Each year the Student Council grows and takes on more responsibility. We hope this will be the tradition of all the future Student Councils.

As Schools Match Wits

The team began in March of 1986 after a lapse of about six years. During the 87-88 school year, we were a standby school in case of cancellation by a competing school. We used the time to prepare ourselves for the 88-89 season. We began this school year with daily meetings to prepare for our first televised match against Chicopee High School which aired on November 12, 1988. During the school year, we kept busy with practice matches with a tough faculty team at T.F.H.S. and by competing in the fall and spring in the National Knowledge Master Open Contest.

Chorus

The marching band and the musical groups once again made TFHS proud. The marching band gave many lively performances out on the football field during half-time, dancing and singing to songs such as "Hey, Baby." They often got the crowd into the spirit of things just by having such a terrific time themselves!

The chorus and band also put on many concerts for parents, friends, and the general public. The annual Christmas and Pops concerts were great successes.

Members of both groups would like to thank their directors, Steve Ciechomski and Jeanne Phillips, for all their time and effort.

Snapping to it . . .

The 1988 football team is not a team that can be measured by its wins and losses. It should be measured by the fact that they worked to their potential and improved game by game. The team was especially good because they were inexperienced and full of injuries, yet they survived.

The team's highlight was their victory over Mohawk. This was a special day because it was Mohawks' Booster Day, and we were winless and they were undefeated.

The team was also proud of their effort in the teamwork category. The team captains, Shawn Morin, Wes Cady, and George Carner led this team proudly and were important in the attitudes of the team. They tried to make practice have a positive atmosphere and also tried to keep high spirits at the games. The seniors made a difference, too.

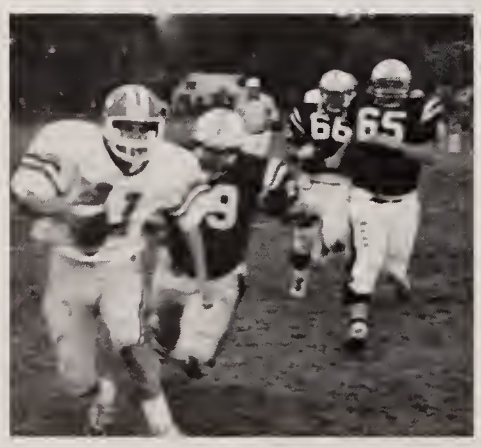
The quality of the seniors showed best at the Cannon Novak Award Banquet. The first tie ever was between Jamie Parent and Bob Bogusz, who both received outstanding offensive awards. George Carner received the outstanding defensive award.

The questions heard throughout the hallway were strange ones to the ordinary student. Those such as "Full gear or shorts and pads?" or "Are we 'live' today?" boggled our minds. When they talked of the worse things, they mentioned the tires, the sled, and running. The best part was the inner-squad scrimmages, "going live."

All in all, the season was a fun one for the team and the fans.

Hey guys! With all of you standing there, the ball better be ours. Below: Ed Baker is on the run, and he is heading for the end zone, which means touchdown to all of us.

The coaches have a perplexed look on their faces. Why is that?



Watch out Vinnie! They are coming to get you.

Eric Peterson is in motion, and he is out for blood!

Ed Baker almost gets us an interception. Well, maybe next time!

BOOSTER DAY BLOOPERS!

If Ed McMahon and Dick Clark had been in Turners Falls on the weekend of October 21, 1988, they would have had the time of their lives! That was one Booster Day weekend full of bloopers and not-so-funny jokes.

You could say that the first barrel of laughs was the traditional spirit week. The estimated dress-up ratio was 1-35. Tie-dye Day seemed to be the most popular among all the classes, since shirts weren't hard to come by. Students compensated for not dressing up by decorating their halls elaborately.

The voting for Queen and King and their court resulted in two tie-breakers between candidates for Queen and Princess. Although some waited impatiently for the in-school coronation, most others waited for the 11:00 announcement, "School is dismissed!"

Once the rally began, the spirit finally erupted. When Shawn Morin's announcement that Diane Wonsey and Eric Saczawa reigned was read, the Seniors went wild! Although the flowers for the Queen had disappeared, the crown was missing, and the band didn't have time to complete the procession, Diane's happiness could not be disguised.

Activity halted until the Booster Day Supper Friday evening. Members of Student Council who remembered brought food for the spread. All in all, the supper was a great success. In fact, starving students arriving at 6:30 found nothing but a few crumbs left!

Finally, came the rally. The theme of Disney emanated from the walls of the gym, with colorful posters catching the eyes of many onlookers. Students filled the stands of each section, eager to shout with all their might, and that they did.

Dressed to kill, Shawn Morin managed to draw spirit even from Mr. LaPierre. Each class got to do their thing, and the Seniors took advantage by reciting Cinderella's Rap, even though no-one heard it.

Partway through the rally when the band took the floor, spirit was at its peak (and so was Craig Bodenstein, who became the first human basketball). The floor was packed with twisting students and faculty, including Mr. White.

Toward the end of the rally, it seemed that students actually wanted to stay at school rather than face the cold night of floatmaking. Students finally left the gym, anxious for the following day and praying that the storm predictions would prove to be false.

Many woke up to Saturday feeling a bit depressed. Just as Dickie had said, the rain was pouring down. An emergency meeting had to be called, and a decision to postpone the parade until Sunday was made.

Although it was unusual to hold a parade and a football game on Sunday, it happened in '88! The new parade route started at Sheffield and ended at TFHS (of course!). A hectic search occurred that morning, a near impossible task of rounding up cars for our royalty to ride in. The Queen and her court may have been a bit upset at the shortened route, but the marchers were quite happy!

It's no blooper that the Sophomores' Donald Duck took first!

Cheers to the Sophomores!

The Freshmen all gave it their best the first time out.

The Juniors' imaginations produced this Figment.

Booster Day '88

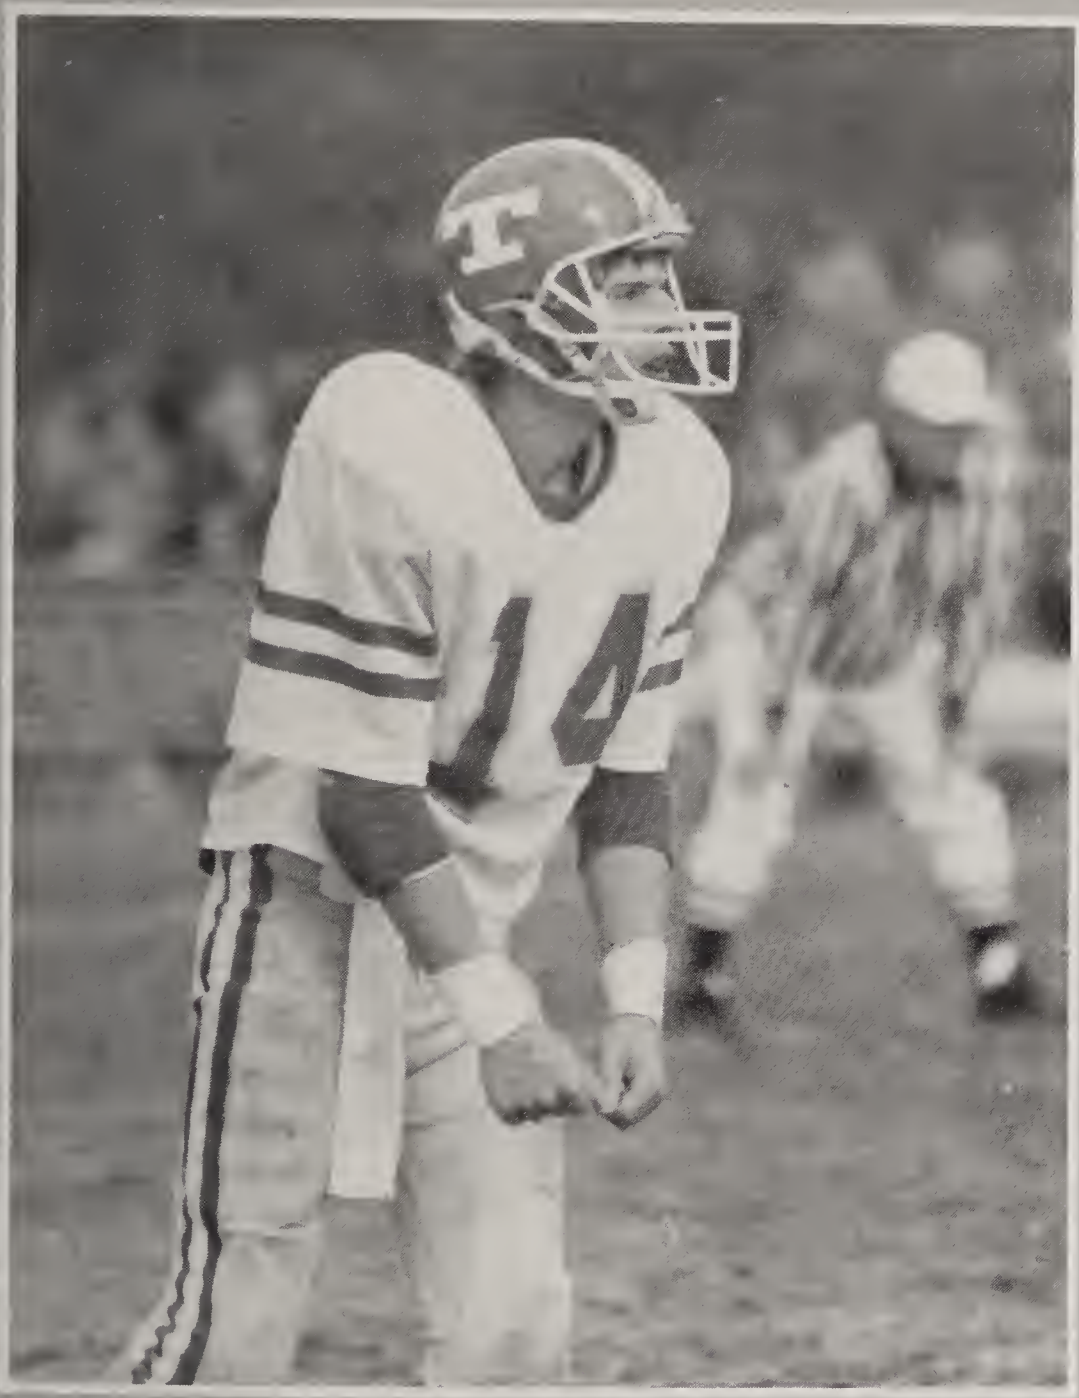
In Our Eyes!!



When the rain had ended and Sunday finally came, the unprecedented Sunday Booster Day began. The floats and royalty paraded down Montague Street on its shortened route that morning. And, following tradition, the game went on that afternoon.

Turners came out strong against the Mahar Senators who survived two daring drives by the Indians. George Carner intercepted a Mahar pass and ran for 37 yards in the first quarter. Later Wes Cady made an optional pass to Jason Dobosz for 29 yards, giving Turners first and goal from the nine-yard line. But that's the closest Turners ever got. The Senators rallied back and the halftime score was 14-0 in favor of Mahar. Turners' defense was to be credited throughout the game and Mahar was held to just two points in the second half. Kris Bourbeau racked up 62 yards, making him the top offensive producer of the game; but we saw a good team effort, making them all winners in our eyes!!

The Turkey Day Showdown

For this occasion, I wrote a little speech, but to get to the basics, these guys are gonna go across the river tomorrow, bust some heads, go home, eat some turkey, and be HAPPY! -Captain Shawn Morin

As it was said at the traditional Turkey Day rally in the senior speeches, once again we headed across the river to meet the Wave, and we were supposed to get washed up.

As the team came out of the huddle and the crowds started to cheer, the excitement mounted. For once, the weather was cold and sunny with no signs of rain or snow.

After holding the Wave at zero in the first quarter, Turners was the first to score in the second when George Carner caught a pass from Jason Dobosz. After three on-side kicks and touchdowns, TF still kept fighting. The spirit was still up when Turners came back from the locker room for the second half.

The last half was a defensive battle between the two rivals with Jamie Parent, Bob Bogusz, and Kris Bourbeau leading the way. The offense was led by George Carner, Bob Bogusz, and Steve Sirum. Every senior got a chance to play, proudly leading and helping to hold Greenfield in the second half until the very last minutes of the game.

Even though the score of 30-6 didn't show Turner's success, the players felt the success in their minds. Being the last game for the seniors, it was an important day for them, and we're looking forward to next year. We wish the 1989 team the best of luck!

Turners men show just how much sympathy they have for men in green!

As if tackling the guy wasn't enough, Chip Dodge tries to knock both heads together.

On your mark, get set, . . .

... AND HE'S GONE!!! IT'S A TOUHDOWN!!!!

Could that possibly be a Greenfield fumble?!?

Setting The Pace . . .

Bumping the perfect bump, setting those "sweet" sets, and spiking the ball with pure "POWER" is what the game of volleyball is all about. This school's volleyball team had a reputation of pulling off all the things needed to win. The team this year had a tough act to follow, but they acted as though it was easy by finishing the season first in the league under the capable hands of coaches Rachael Blain and Mary-Lou Heselton.

The junior varsity team went on to complete an impressive 16-2 season lead by Sara Beaubien and Kris Lynch. They went through hours of practice trying to learn the skills necessary to conquer in the world of volleyball. With each game they improved because veterans helped them along in becoming better players.

Likewise, the varsity team was very cohesive all season. Their captains, Andrea Dobias and Deb Partridge, lead the team with a "TEAM" attitude. The thing that helped the most was that they were not only teammates, but friends too. Diving on the floor was no longer a chore, but sheer pleasure. Aceing a serve or pounding a "KILL" became common place for this team.

After easily defeating league rival Mahar, the team was ecstatic over playing so well. "DESIRE" was the word, and it could be seen that Turners had that word in them. They wanted to win. Except for one regular season defeat and one defeat in the post season, the team played exceptionally to go on to an 18-2 season.

The team is psyched and ready to play after listening to one of Coach Blain's inspiring poems. On their faces is the look of Desire!

The team isn't celebrating the win, but anticipating those promised pizzas.

Nikki Lafleur, Michelle McCord, and Bree Kolakoski listen to the coach.

Kicking Off The Year

The 1988 soccer season started out with a lot of high hopes and spirited attitudes. One of the reasons the team was so happy was that for the first time since the Great Falls Middle School was instituted there was a Turners Falls High School Junior Varsity Team. The coach, Mr. Mullins, had some optimistic views and he was ready to give his players a work out they would never forget. The dreaded "course" was on the list of daily practice routines. This running event was timed and you had to improve each time you had to take the "course," which was slightly over a mile. A rough season had to be endured due to injuries, inexperience, and other complications.

Although the season was tough, there were some bright spots too. Some of the best ones were the two victories over the Franklin County Technical School and an inspirational 1-0 victory over the Mohawk Trail Regional High School. These games were the ones that brought the team together, since at times they tended not to be as close as a team should be. To win these games, the soccer teams learned that just one individual does not win or lose a game, but a TEAM wins and loses.

The team had their own personal awards that some of the players received, such as the MVP Award that Jon LaBelle proudly took home. The Top Defensive Award got handed to Tom Scott for his outstanding playing. The Top Offensive Award, Jon LaBelle also accumulated. The Rookie of the Year was given to Jason Ames. The Tenth Player Award Mel Atkins received with open arms and the Most Improved Player was given to Sean Sexton. The famous coach's Award went to Pat Martineau. Pat was also selected to the All League Team.

With the whole 1988 team returning, the expectations for 1989 are high, and all in all they expect an award-winning season next year.

Chad Voudren is tired of stardom and hopes for no more pictures.

Getting The Ball Rolling . . .

This season was a great one for the girls of the Turners Falls High School field hockey team-not in the wins category, but as a team that stuck together and did the best that they could. This wonderful season was credited to the newcomer coach, Mrs. Bogue. She will be remembered as somewhat of a mother figure to the field hockey players. She will also be loved for all that she has taught the girls throughout the season.

This year the team had to start from square one because of a new coach and because they had so many new faces on the try-out field at the beginning of the season. This was a good factor in the optimism of the team about the season ahead.

The players picked the captains of the team to be Tracy LaPointe and Missy Albright. They did a wonderful job as the team leaders throughout the season. Not only was Missy a fine leader, but she was also an exemplary player. This showed as she was selected to the All Star Team as their halfback.

The team feels that next year's season will be even better than this one because they have not lost any players to graduation. That is one of the main reasons the team picked their captains for next year. These players were picked for their outstanding sportsmanship this year. The field hockey team should be remembered because they tried their best, and even though they may not have won many games, they are still considered winners to this school.

Deb Bogue be careful you don't get a penalty. You're a little close.

Strive For Perfection

Basketball Cheerleaders

"Snap to it" - Summer practices begin for the football season. How they all enjoyed those runs around the football field in 90 degree temperatures to get themselves in shape. Not to speak of how they each had to make up a cheer for the up-coming seasons.

"Our actions will excite you" - True to the words, their pep, precision, jumps, and mounts brought them through to the basketball season and into tournament. Early practices, fighting for the gym with the basketball teams, and long painful workouts gave them what "Turners Falls Cheerleaders are here to say - will hop n' bop - yell n' scream - and move to the top."

Their spirit, power, and dedication gave the tournament squad the fame they deserved at Smith Academy, on February 25, where our cheerleaders took the "spirit award" and first place in Division I.

"Yell n' scream for each victory" - they showed all their nifty tricks, and they will do it again - watch and see at Chicopee, and David Prouty!

"Impress us through and through" - they did, but not without the help and support from their fans, parents, school committee, the inspiration from coaches (Basketball) Alana Holmes, (Tournament) Lisa Dumas, and wonderful advisor Marie Beaubien.

But beware they will be back next year to take Turners to a season full of "CHEER."

Hippie League

This is the first year since the Sheffield School fire of 1986/1987 that Hippie League has been in effect. It is run by Stanley Koshinsky, and the students join on a volunteer basis. Each team plays each other team three times during the season. The games are held on Wednesday of every week, and they are open to the public. The season closes with a series of playoffs and championships. In Hippie League there may not be the normal rules and regulations of normal organized basketball, but one thing's for sure, these guys have a lot of fun!!!!

Off The Boards

Entering the 1988/1989 boys basketball season two major concerns had to be addressed. Who would replace the scoring void left by Bob Mosca? The second was lack of size. The Turners Falls High School varsity boys' roster did not include one player over six feet tall.

Rebounding and defense can make any team competitive. Defense is 90% effort and 10% ability, and after just one week of practice, it was obvious at T.F.H.S. the effort was going to be there. The Turners squad was the smallest in the school's history with Junior, Craig Brown, the only six footer. The bulk of the rebounding responsibilities fell on Brown; 5'9" Junior, Tom Scott; and 5'11" Junior, Kris Bourbeau. Co-Captain senior, George Carner, also under six feet, would have to play a new role as forward. George spent previous seasons as a guard, and making the transition in his senior year was very challenging. It was encouraging to see George take the challenge head on.

The guard positions would be filled by Co-Captain, Jarod Boissonneault; Junior, Jacob Casino; and Sophomore, Jason Dobosz.

After splitting their independent game schedule at two wins and two losses, the small, young, and inexperienced Turners Falls High School squad entered the tough league schedule. It wasn't until game eleven against The Hopkins Academy Hawks that all the pieces came together and The Turners Falls Indians came out on top with a convincing 66-44 victory. The Turners Falls squad was starting to develop a team chemistry and a feeling of confidence and pride in their abilities.

The Turners Falls High School squad of 1988/1989 has proved that success should not be evaluated in the win and loss column, but the will and determination to fight to the very end.

Down The Court

The Turners Falls High School girls season of 1988/89 started out with a lot of optimism. The returning veterans of the varsity team were confident with the abilities of their second year coach, Mr. Louis Collins, and the newcomers were equally anxious to get the season started.

The junior varsity was subjected to a lot of recruiting and still only finished the year with seven girls. With the leadership and guidance of a new coach, Sherri Cloutier, the kids played hard and kept their pride through the season, even though luck proved to be against them. These girls look forward to seeing varsity playing time in the future.

The girls varsity team had nine girls — five of which were seniors. Filling in the leadership roles were senior tri-captains Andrea Dobias, Amy Burek, and Kelly Emond. Senior Jill Thayer proved to be a key player off the bench. Senior, Andrea Dobias, improved considerably this year and became the scorer of which she was capable. Kelly Emond was a key defensive machine with aggressiveness. Also, Amy Burek showed a great deal of energy and perseverance and proved to be a real team leader on and off the court. This year the team was fortunate enough to have playing experience with senior exchange student, Minori Niinou. Minori was a much-needed player for her height and proved to be a big rebounder for the Turners Falls Indians.

The team is losing the experience of five key seniors to graduation this year, but these students are to be congratulated on their efforts. They will be missed by one and all as teammates and as friends.

In The Swim Girls' Swim Team

This year's girls' swim team was composed of both freshmen and upperclass veterans. Although the girls were competitive within their division, the emphasis throughout the season remained on bettering individual times. Seven swimmers went to the Western Mass. meet at Springfield College, swimming on the medley and free-style relay teams. Both Juniors, Debbie Bogue, who swam in the 50 and 100 meter freestyle, and Lisa Richotte, who swam in the 200 meter freestyle, qualified for the meet. The girls finished with an overall record of 7-7 and a league record of 6-2. Debbie Bogue received the award for the most valuable swimmer and Lisa Richotte received awards for most improved and most dedicated swimmer. Senior, Neysa Pelletier, received the team spirit award voted on both the boys' and the girls' teams.

Coach, Karen Ziomek, watches on at a meet.

Taking The Plunge
Boys' Swim Team

This year's boys' swim team was composed of four returning athletes and four welcome additions. Due to the "lack of depth" on the team this year, the focus was on improvement of individual performances. In this regard, the boys had an excellent season. Most noteworthy were the consistent diving performances of Ed Brown and Ed Baker, who could always be counted on for a first or second place. They also qualified for the Western Mass. swim meet at Springfield College, where Ed Brown placed third and Ed Baker placed fourteenth in the standings. Ed Brown also participated in the boys' state meet. Four other swimmers went to the Western Mass. meet and competed on medley and freestyle relay teams. The boys finished with an overall record of 2-11-1 and a league record of 2-5-1. The most valuable member award went to Ed Brown who garnered the most during the season. Chad Voudren received the award for most dedicated swimmer and Jon Allen received the award for most improved swimmer.

The Team: Karen Ziomek, Coach; Ed Brown, diving; Bob Lapinski, freestyle; Randy Rushford, back & breaststroke; Ed Baker, diving; Jon Allen, fly & breaststroke; Bill Allen backstroke; Chad Voudren, breaststroke-IM; and Shawn McCabe, back & breaststroke.

On The Run . . .

In only the second season of its existence, the winter track team had another successful year. Many new faces appeared, and the season proved to be fun, although not without hours of hard work.

Training began just after Christmas. Members were expected to run at least five days a week, in preparation for meets to come. Weight training became an important part of this year's program, helping each athlete to become stronger both mentally and physically.

Coach Findlay soon opened a weightlifting session for any athlete between 6AM and 7AM in the new lifting room. These sessions were the most fun, giving everyone a chance to laugh at whose hair looked the worst or someone getting "nine and a swing" instead of ten.

Once the actual meets started, track members were always on the go. An athlete might find himself competing anywhere from Harvard to Smith College. There were some weekends when members would run in three different meets, quite a lot of traveling.

Special thanks go out to coaches Bob Avery and Bob Findlay for their time and dedication. Many thanks also go to manager Sue Chase, who was always there with times, places, and results. Most of all, thanks to all the athletes for participating — it was a season of which to be proud.

Top Row: Sean Sexton, Michelle Hammock, Billie Beaubien, Tara Perkins, Jen Hubert, Sander Casino. Middle Row: Davina Garland, June Rose, Shelley Deso, J.K. 1988 Franklin County League Volleyball Champions

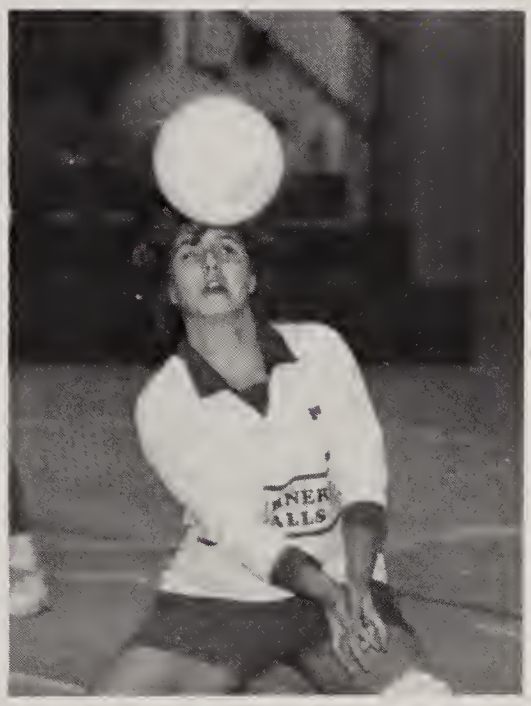
Imagine yourself in a big-game setting, standing proudly on the floor before a crowd of people while the national anthem is playing. That's what it was like for the fifteen volleyball players on the nights of November 9th and 11th.

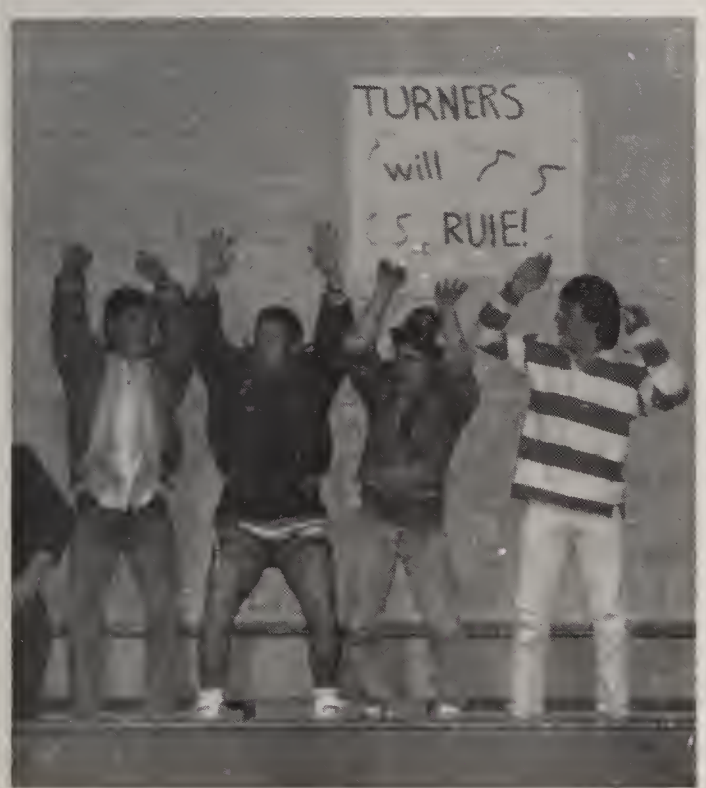
An 18-1 seasonal record made Turners Falls the Franklin County League Champions once again, continuing the two-year winning streak. Along with the title came a big commitment from each of the players, a commitment to be aggressive at all times and live by the words, "The floor is your friend!"

The semi-final for WMASS was against Amherst at home. After dropping the first game to a tough-playing Amherst team 14-1, Turners went on to show them what they could really do. Game number two was overpowering by TFHS, a 15-1 victory. After that it was all Turners, on their way to another WMASS championship game.

On the way to Athol that Friday night, the spirits were soaring. One damper was the loss of player Andrea Dobias to illness, but the team was still confident that they could win.

Greenfield was an extremely tough opponent, playing with courage and strength. Turners matched this strength as much as possible, but dropped three games for the loss. As Coach Blain said, "That last point you just played was the Turners team we've seen all season." Although saddened, Turners left the gym knowing they had done well as a team to take, at least, the League Championship.





The team received words of advice from coaches, above, as well as from friends, far left (Jason Dobosz, Wes Cady, Steve Sirum, George Carner)

Concentration is not a problem for Cathy Smith.

Coaches Rachel Blain and Mary-Lou Heselton deserve many thanks for all their help and support.

Andrea Dobias says, "I got it!" while Carrie Task says, "No way — it's mine!"

DESIGNING WOMEN

PLUS TWO

Well, here we are — the ones who brought you this book. This year we had another fun group o hardworking girls and guys who gave a lot of time and effort to make this book as unique and as special as it is. And when we say a lot of time, we mean a lot of time!

It all started last summer when the editors (Pam, Lisa, Tricia, Amy, Kris, Sara, Diane) and Mrs. Scott, the advisor, went to Bryant College in Rhode Island for the Jostens Yearbook Workshop. For three days we suffered through classes, conferences, food that left something to be desired, and muggy days. We were taught how to bring a book together and all the right and wrong ways of doing it. We were given homework to do in our dorms. We got the chance to work with students from surrounding states and made a lot of new friends too.

When we came home, we decided to get right to work. Our ad campaign was first, and we spent a great deal of time mailing out hundreds of letters to potential sponsors. We needed to raise a lot of money and planned to have our advertising done by October, but even the best made plans can fall through. We finally finished up on advertising with our last deadline.

That brings us to the D-word: DEADLINE. Well, the first one hit us pretty hard —16 pages in color. After al the procrastination, we had just two weeks to pull that section together and send it to the plant. We worked our tails off in study halls — some of us even skipped classes and stayed late nights tearing our hair out trying to get all of our work done. We worked right down to the last minute and gave a sigh of relief that all our stress was over until the next deadline.

We've disagreed many times but have always managed to pull together as a team. With Mrs. Scott guiding us along and pushing us to make our deadlines, we were able to produce one really great book. We would like to give her our thanks for all her hard work and persistence. For us, there will always be more memories held in this book than the ones on each page.

Since the day of your birth,
You have been a constant source of joy.

Upon reaching this milestone in your life,
We want you to know that we are proud -
You are everything we ever hoped you'd be!

We also want you to know that the committee
Is still in effect .....
Watching, listening, helping, and loving
Whether you need it or not!

A Note To Shawnee

I hope the next 4 years go as quickly for you as the last 17 went for me!

Love, Mom, Shannon, and Larry bird

Sally,

Your father and I have watched you grow up before our very eyes.

You've had some hard times, times when you were afraid you wouldn't succeed.

But you kept trying. I'm very proud of your not giving up and throwing in the towel.

You're a beautiful young woman, and you will go a long way with that attitude.

Love Mom + Dad

Congratulations Jodi!
LOVE, KIM & SCOTT

To Jodi with love,
You are a shining example of what a daughter can be — love and laughter,
beautiful and good,
honest and principled,
determined and intelligent.
You are a shining example
of what every mother and father wishes their daughter was — and we are so very proud of you!

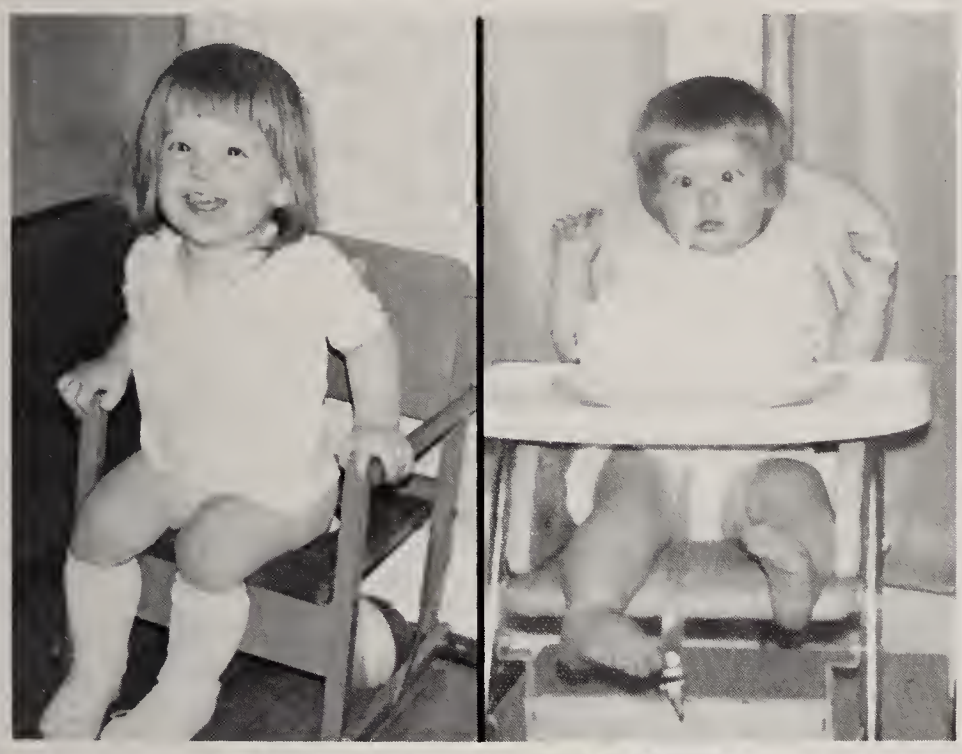
Mom & Dad

Congratulations
Jen



We are so very proud of you!
Lots of Love,
Mom and Dad

Kris-

At this special time in your life, we would like to congratulate you and express the pride we feel as your parents. But, most importantly, our message to you:

Be proud of yourself, your accomplishments, and the person you are today, and never compromise the dreams you have for tomorrow.

Love,

Mom + Dad

For our friends Andrea, Brenna, Emily, Jodi, Kelly, + Pam Friends are . . .
the kisses at hellos and good-byes,
the feeling of never having been apart
because it's so great to be together, the knowing that you will find each other
no matter what happens in this world, because no barrier is strong enough to dare separate you.
Friends are forever.
Lots of Love Always,
Jen and Nikki

Congratulations

TRICIA
You have always been my guiding light,
With a smile so warm and eyes so bright.
I am envied, yes, by one and all.
'Cause with you beside me, I walk tall.
You are the sunshine in my sky,
And the apple of everyone's eye.
I don't know what I did before,
With no one hiding behind my door
Waiting to kiss me when I came from school,
And teaching me that love is an important rule.
So God bless you, little girl, with eyes so bright,
That keeps me reading way into the night.
I love you, little sister, you're my dream come true;
With a smile that lasts forever and a heart that's never blue.

Jon,

I never thought I'd be so fortunate as to have a boyfriend so sweet and so patient as you are. No one has ever felt like a part of me that I cannot live without. I'm sure we'll be together forever even if you're out of school and I'm just beginning. This year has been very special, not just for us as a couple, but for the year you never thought would be here, the year you graduate! You've worked hard in the last year to make sure this would be your year for graduation. I knew you could do it!

I love you now and I always will,

Love,

Kathi

To all my good friends:

Lisa - remember "My name is . . ."

Amy G. - remember my first trash bag at Memory Lane?

Amy. B - remember the "special homeroom?"

Trish - remember me being your twin?

Jen - remember walking to Jamie's?

Ange - remember Ezmerelda?

Jill - remember tobacco's Alfonzo?

Kris - remember "pretty stationery?"

Di - remember Perkins' history class?

Sara - remember the "front row?"

I will miss you all!

Keep in touch!

Love always,

Lisa

Good luck next year, Trish, I know you'll do great! I want to thank you for the past year and a half. It's been the best year and a half of my life, and I love you for it. Keep up the good work.

Love,

Craig

Marcy,

You made it!!! I'm really proud of you. You have been a special kind of friend to me and a wonderful person to me. I hope that we can stay close as friends. By the way, one thing that will always make me feel better when we're apart is the summer of '87 at Red Rock with certain people whose names we won't mention.

Keep in touch and good luck in the future.

Love ya,

Meg

Bill,

I'm so glad that I'm a part of your life now. I'll always cherish the memories we have together. You're very special to me. I know you'll make your dreams come true. I'm looking forward to many more memories together. I'll always love you and I'll always be yours forever. Congratulations.

Love,

Tina

Dear George,

High school is finally over. I'm glad to be a part of your memories. You're really a special person to me. Don't let anything stand in the way of your dreams. I'll never forget you. I wish you luck now and in everything you do. Congratulations.

Love,

Tracy

Steve,

Congratulations! We've been together for a long time now, and I'm glad I'll be a part of your high school memories. I've enjoyed all the time we've spent together. I hope the future brings us a lot of happiness. I love you, and I'll never forget you!

Love always,

Wendy

Congratulations, Sara!!!

Thank you, Sara, for always being there for me and your sisters and for being my special "friend." We love you and wish you all the success in the future to come.

Love, Mom, Bobbie, Billie, and Andrea

Jeanette,

You're the best thing that ever happened to me. What we have gives a new meaning to true love. Congratulations on your graduation.

Paul

To all of you —

I'd always thought it would be fun to be a class advisor, but I never did it until I met you. It has been very rewarding — I want you to know that.

All those class meetings, the floats, the sophomore shuffle, our Spirit Awards, the TURNERS sweatshirts we brought back into circulation, the scholarships we gave each year, that outstanding prom @ the Depot, our Wipe Out dance — and daily life in the corridors and byways — all of these memories, we can always share.

Thanks for your cooperation and loyalty, for working hard to get those good grades, and for moving your feet out of the way when the faculty walks by! And someday, when you think back, remember that WE ARE THE SCHOOL!

See you @ the reunions!

Love,
Mrs. Neville

Barry,
It's been an exciting year/ I wish you lotsa luck in the future and in the Marines.
Never forget me or 1-20-89, thanks for always being there for me, you're a great friend. Keep in touch. See ya at the four next year!!!!
Love always,
Bree

Well, TFHS, the book is finally done. The editors and staff put many long, hard hours in to make this book the best one to hit this school yet. We think it is, and we hope you agree.

WE CAN'T BELIEVE IT EITHER, SAV, BUT IT'S DONE!

Congratulations, Eric Shaw

Promise yourself to be so strong that nothing can disturb your peace . . . to make all of your friends feel that there is something in them . . . to work only for the best and expect only the best . . . to be enthusiastic about the success of others as you are about your own . . . to forget the mistakes of the past and press on to the greater achievements of the future . . . to give so much of yourself that you have no time to criticize others . . . to be too large for worry, too noble for anger, too strong for fear, and too happy to permit the presence of trouble.
